

BARTINE'S LETTER.

In another column is published a letter which although a private communication to the editor of this journal is published in full as it is a complete refutation of the unfair criticisms of the Silver State and other democratic journals.

The letter speaks for itself and is such a thorough vindication of his course that further comment is unnecessary.

It would now be the graceful thing for the Silver State to acknowledge its error and apologize to its readers for its misleading and wholly uncalled for articles on this subject.

THE WEATHER.

Of the late storm and its effects the Susanville Advocate says:

The people of this region have been in a state of wonderment since December 1st at the extraordinary and unprecedented weather. Early in November we began to hear of cold storms eastward, and during that month the terrible blizzard struck Colorado, New Mexico, etc., in the latter territory causing great destruction of human life and of many thousand head of cattle. The common condition here is cold mild weather, with an occasional light rain after September, up to the holidays, after which the snow storms set in. Snow is of incalculable benefit here. Falling to great depths on the mountains surrounding all our valleys and plains, and especially on the great Sierra plateau in the western part of the country; as it gradually melts in the Spring its abundant waters rush down to irrigate the rich alluvial soil lying at the base of all the mountains. It is the surplus of this water, over and beyond what can be utilized by farmers as it flows, that is being stored by the various companies now building and who have built reservoirs. We are therefore all glad to see snow in its season, aside from the many pleasures it brings, but this year its amount astonishes the "oldest inhabitants."

The Pacific coast is having the greatest rain and snow fall ever known, and accounts of its floods, inundations and snow-slides have gone all over the world. But no such news can be sent from here. No snow-slides occur because our plateaus are too broad, and the slope of our mountain-sides too gradual; or on the Sierras south of Honey Lake too steep to receive much snow, and with heavily timbered foothills at the base.

Destructive floods are here unknown, and owing to the configuration of the country are impossible.

Nevada has a Board of Trade, and as usual they seek imported brains to lead it. Nevada has as large a per cent of first-class talent that always captures the people of Nevada when they have honorable positions to dispose of. In our opinion they are doing an injustice to old citizens who are well qualified to fill any and all offices at the disposal of the people. Is it any wonder it is said their Senatorial and other honorable offices are carried in the vest pocket? The Board of Trade can be of much service to Nevada and it may meet the expectations of her enterprising people.—Sierra Nevada Leader.

It is reported that a number of men are now making a regular business of running Chinamen into California from Mexico, and it is believed that the coolies come direct from China to the Mexican coast on French steamers. There seems to be no adequate way of stopping this business on either our northern or southern borders under the present conditions. Smugglers of goods have to pay some regard to traveled routes, where they may be intercepted, but Chinamen can cut across the line at all points. Perhaps the evil will eventually find its own remedy by bracing our people up to the point of absolute prohibition and deportation of Chinese.

McIntirey now occupies a central position in society circles.
